A Sticky Summertime Treat

As the clouds float above the crowds at a carnival or ballgame, down below are people of all ages happily enjoying the fluffy, melt-in-your-mouth confection known as cotton candy. Spin through these fun facts about the sticky stuff:

- Made of pure sugar, cotton candy isn't great for your teeth ... yet it was invented by a dentist! Dr. William Morrison co-created a sugar-spinning machine with candymaker John C. Wharton in 1897. They called their confection "fairy floss."
- In many countries, it's still called fairy floss or candy floss. In the Netherlands, they say sugar spider, and the French call it papa's beard.
- Each fine thread of cotton candy is thinner than a human hair. The strands are made by melting sugar and forcing it through a screen of tiny holes. Modern machines spin the sugar strands thousands of revolutions per minute.
- The treat was first introduced to a wide audience at the St. Louis World's Fair in 1904, where it sold for 25 cents a box.
- In the U.S., cotton candy is usually one of two artificially created flavors: blue raspberry and pink vanilla.
- An amusement park in Turkey holds the world record for making the longest spool of cotton candy. It took 6 hours and 70 staff members to make the confection, which measured over 4,500 feet long.
- Have you tried Cotton Candy grapes? A hybrid of two other grape varieties, the fruit's natural sweetness is compared to the flavor of cotton candy.

Easter Joy Shared Across Generations

Spring was in full swing as our community welcomed a group of energetic and adorable Pre-K children for a joyful Easter Egg Hunt on our front lawn. The event brought smiles, laughter, and a beautiful blend of generations as the children eagerly searched for colorful eggs scattered across the grass. Our residents joined in the fun by handing out sweet treats and cheering on the little hunters. Watching the children dash around with baskets in hand brought back fond memories for many and filled the air with laughter and excitement.
